This is an update for people and groups who are interested in proposed changes to primary care support services. If you want to have names added to or taken off the distribution list please email england.pcsinfo@nhs.net

Background

NHS England is changing the way primary care support (PCS) services (also known as family health services) are provided across England. A general overview of the PCS transformation project is available here

What services are affected? “Core” and “non-core” categorisation

PCS services cover similar but not identical roles in different parts of the country. We have developed a national standard for those services that will be considered “core” and will be delivered in future by every PCS service. We have also listed services that are “non-core” that may have been delivered in some places by PCS services and either provider arrangements need to be identified for the future or, in some cases, they will stop. A project is underway to decide the future arrangements.

So, there are three categorisations of services:

List 1: Core Services. These will be funded by NHS England and provided through PCS services.

List 2 a) Non-core services that may continue to be provided by PCS services but future arrangements need to be decided.

List 2 b): Non-core services that will stop.

The content of the three lists is summarised below.

NHS England Board meeting

The NHS England Board met on March 6 and was given an update on the PCS project. The item was in the private session of the meeting because of the commercial sensitivities.

The Board discussed progress on the options for change that are being developed regionally, and acknowledged the impact that the extended timetable was having on staff, the significant commitment that they have shown to the consultation and to continuing to provide a good service during this period of uncertainty.

The Board was given information on the process to undertake due diligence on the proposal from SSCL (see details in Update 1 via the link above). They recognised that more work is needed to enable them to make their decision and asked for further information to be brought to their next meeting in May. This item will also need to be on the private agenda.

The Board also acknowledged that information about the final regional preferred in-house options and the SSCL proposal would need to be shared with staff and stakeholders as soon as possible to allow sufficient time for consultation to be meaningful.

Work continues on the due diligence of both the regional options and the SSCL proposal so that the business case can be produced.

We are happy to meet with national stakeholders to discuss any issues these changes raise with you. Local area teams and regions are also happy to deal with local enquiries. Please email: england.pcsinfo@nhs.net
