Supplementary Planning Documents

Background

- 1 A Village Design Statement [VDS] is a practical document produced by local people, which can form a material consideration when assessing planning applications and development in their local area.
- 2 Once adopted as a Supplementary Planning Document (SPD), a VDS can provide a clear statement of the character of a village against which planning applications can be assessed. It can also provide a guide for development and can also assist decision makers in providing guidance about how development should be approached and undertaken so as to respect the local identity and also meet the concerns of local residents.

Proposed SPD

- 3 The proposed SPD looks at different issues affecting the village of Otford, including landscape character and open spaces, building design, conservation area, housing development, extensions and alterations, property boundaries and street furniture, public footpaths and bridleways, the Vestry Estate and surrounding land and agriculture and the surrounding natural environment. Under each category the local community have laid out some of the issues that the village faces and through this discussion have then raised a number of design principles at the end of each section that the local community would wish to see followed for development in their village.
- 4 Local groups have prepared the VDS for Otford. It is now proposed that this document be adopted as SPD. As required by the Town and Country Planning (Local Development) (England) Regulations 2004 (as amended) Consultation Statements have been prepared for each document. These are attached in Appendix A.
- 5 The statements illustrate that the proper procedures have been followed in the preparation of this document.
- 6 The document clearly reflects the wishes and aims of the local community and follows on from the policies laid out in the Development Plan. It is therefore recommended that the approval is given for them to be adopted as an SPD.
