

APPENDIX F

Please note our objection to the above application in its present form on the grounds of public nuisance. There is currently insufficient information properly to enable us to understand what is proposed. An application to supply alcohol over 160 acres of countryside is an extraordinary application on any basis. Coupled with the ability to provide amplified live and recorded music on premises authorised to sell alcohol for consumption on those premises, it raises the obvious concern that it will lead to a serious noise nuisance for the neighbouring areas, for example in the form of some sort of festival.

Roland and Emma Foord

